Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-11, 18-25, 27-41, and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cammarota et al. (6,307,119).

With respect to claim 1, Cammarota discloses an absorbent article comprising a liquid pervious topsheet 42, a liquid impervious backsheet 40, and an absorbent body 44. The liquid impervious backsheet 40 comprises a strip part 72, as shown in figure 1, the strip part 72 being integral and having a different color than the backsheet 40. A wetness indicator 66 is arranged on an inside of the backsheet 40, as disclosed in column 16, lines 29-31, and is applied adjacent the strip part 72, as shown in figure 1.

With respect to claim 2, Cammarota discloses an embodiment having the strip part 72 located on a separate strip of material 112 fastened on the inside of the backsheet 110, as shown in figure 9B. A plurality of wetness indicators 66 are arranged on the inside of the backsheet 110 and are visible through the backsheet 110, as disclosed in column 21, lines 41-48, and are applied adjacent the strip part 72, as shown in figure 1.

With respect to claim 3, the wetness indicator 66 is applied adjacent the strip part 72 in an area of the backsheet 110 not covered by the strip part 72, as shown in figure 1.

With respect to claim 3, the strip 72 is fully capable of indicating the size or total absorption capacity of the article.

With respect to claims 5, 19, 28, and 35, the strip 72 extends at least an essential part of the length of the article, as shown in figure 1.

With respect to claims 6, 20, 29, and 36, the strip 72 has a dimension in the transverse direction of the article, and the article is fully capable of being folded along the strip 72.

With respect to claims 7, 10, 11, 21, 24, 25, 30, 33, 34, 37, 40, and 41, the wetness indicator 66 has a width of between about 1.5 cm and 3 cm, as disclosed in column 11, lines 25-27. The strip 72 has a width of approximately the size of the wetness indicator 66, as shown in figure 1, and therefore has a width within the range of 1 cm to 8 cm.

With respect to claims 8, 22, 31, and 38, the article further comprises printed symbols "big boy" or "big girl," as disclosed in column 7, lines 13-14, which are capable of indicating the size or type of the product.

With respect to claims 9, 23, 32 and 39, the article is a diaper or incontinence guard.

With respect to claims 18, 27, and 43, the wetness indicator 66 is disposed on the remaining part of the backsheet 40.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 17, 26, and 42 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-11 and 13-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
